Nursing

Dodge City Community College offers a bi-level program in nursing. All students who complete the freshman year (Level I) are eligible to write the licensure examination to become Licensed Practical Nurses. Those who continue through the sophomore year (Level II) are eligible to write the licensure examination to become Registered Nurses.

Students enroll in the fall of each year in both Freshman and Sophomore levels. The curriculum includes general education courses and nursing courses. The nursing courses include both theory classes and clinical experience in client care. The program is concentrated to include opportunities for the student to acquire knowledge and skill in the field of nursing and human relations.

Financial Aid for Nursing Students

Dodge City Community College has developed a variety of financial aid to assist students in overcoming economic problems associated with college attendance.

The community college, in accordance with its educational philosophies, accepts financial aid applications and makes decisions regarding those applications without regard to sex, race, creed, disability, or national origin. The college is guided by the principle that equal opportunity and access to facilities, programs, and services shall be available to all.

There are a variety of grants and loans available to nursing students. Some of the grants include nursing scholarships, the Pell Grant and the Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant. Students, if eligible, may also apply for loans, including the Perkins Loan (NDSL), the Stafford Loan (GSL), Supplemental Loan (SLS) or Parent Loan(PLUS).

Any student with a financial concern is encouraged to contact the Financial Aid Director for additional information and assistance.
